

Terry Williams Tassie Tour

HAEMORRHAGING FAITH - Why are we bleeding young people from our churches?

Current Australian research is shouting to us that our current TGIF Generation (Twitter, Google, iDevice, Facebook), which is more connected yet more isolated than generations before them, is walking away from the church and the faith in their adolescent years. The beginning of the solution to this critical issue is in our hands.

About Terry: Terry trained and worked as a teacher in primary and secondary schools before joining the staff team of Scripture Union Queensland, where he has worked for 30 years as a specialist in children's ministry. In 2008 Terry divided his time to join the SU International staff team in a part time capacity where part of his role is to serve on a small global training team helping to multiply trainers across the world. Terry is married to Margaret and they have three adult children and two grandchildren.

The session will be focused on envisioning and empowering local faith communities to develop their own long term discipling strategy.

Possible Topics are:

- ◆ Nurturing life long active faith in the context of the home
- ◆ Journey with children and young people through their questions about life and faith
- ◆ Connecting with and protecting young people in a digital generation i.e. iParenting

Details:

Date: Monday 24th November, 2014

Place: Wellspring, cnr Grosvenor & Lord Sts Sandy Bay

Time: 9:30am - 3pm

Cost: no cost, BYO lunch

For more info contact: James Veltmeyer, Director of Children's and Youth Ministry

0405 199 291 or james.veltmeier@anglicantas.org.au

Terry Williams Tassie Tour

HAEMORRHAGING FAITH - Why are we bleeding young people from our churches?

Current Australian research is shouting to us that our current TGIF Generation (Twitter, Google, iDevice, Facebook), which is more connected yet more isolated than generations before them, is walking away from the church and the faith in their adolescent years. The beginning of the solution to this critical issue is in our hands.

About Terry: Terry trained and worked as a teacher in primary and secondary schools before joining the staff team of Scripture Union Queensland, where he has worked for 30 years as a specialist in children's ministry. In 2008 Terry divided his time to join the SU International staff team in a part time capacity where part of his role is to serve on a small global training team helping to multiply trainers across the world. Terry is married to Margaret and they have three adult children and two grandchildren.

The session will be focused on envisioning and empowering local faith communities to develop their own long term discipling strategy.

Possible Topics are:

- ◆ Nurturing life long active faith in the context of the home
- ◆ Journey with children and young people through their questions about life and faith
- ◆ Connecting with and protecting young people in a digital generation i.e. iParenting

Details:

Date: Monday 24th November, 2014

Place: Wellspring, cnr Grosvenor & Lord Sts Sandy Bay

Time: 7pm - 9pm

Cost: donation

For more info contact: James Veltmeyer, Director of Children's and Youth Ministry
0405 199 291 or james.veltmeier@anglicantas.org.au

Terry Williams Tassie Tour

HAEMORRHAGING FAITH - Why are we bleeding young people from our churches?

Current Australian research is shouting to us that our current TGIF Generation (Twitter, Google, iDevice, Facebook), which is more connected yet more isolated than generations before them, is walking away from the church and the faith in their adolescent years. The beginning of the solution to this critical issue is in our hands.

About Terry: Terry trained and worked as a teacher in primary and secondary schools before joining the staff team of Scripture Union Queensland, where he has worked for 30 years as a specialist in children's ministry. In 2008 Terry divided his time to join the SU International staff team in a part time capacity where part of his role is to serve on a small global training team helping to multiply trainers across the world. Terry is married to Margaret and they have three adult children and two grandchildren.

The session will be focused on envisioning and empowering local faith communities to develop their own long term discipling strategy.

Extra Day Session:

This session is designed for anyone who wants to go deeper into what they have heard at other sessions.

We can look at practical examples and work through what children's and youth ministry would look like in your context.

We can look in more detail at questions you might have.

Details:

Date: Tuesday 25th November, 2014

Place: Wellspring, cnr Grosvenor & Lord Sts Sandy Bay

Time: 9:30am - 3pm

Cost: no cost, BYO lunch

For more info contact: James Veltmeyer, Director of Children's and Youth Ministry

0405 199 291 or james.veltmeier@anglicantas.org.au

Terry Williams Tassie Tour

HAEMORRHAGING FAITH - Why are we bleeding young people from our churches?

Current Australian research is shouting to us that our current TGIF Generation (Twitter, Google, iDevice, Facebook), which is more connected yet more isolated than generations before them, is walking away from the church and the faith in their adolescent years. The beginning of the solution to this critical issue is in our hands.

About Terry: Terry trained and worked as a teacher in primary and secondary schools before joining the staff team of Scripture Union Queensland, where he has worked for 30 years as a specialist in children's ministry. In 2008 Terry divided his time to join the SU International staff team in a part time capacity where part of his role is to serve on a small global training team helping to multiply trainers across the world. Terry is married to Margaret and they have three adult children and two grandchildren.

The session will be focused on envisioning and empowering local faith communities to develop their own long term discipling strategy.

Possible Topics are:

- ◆ Nurturing life long active faith in the context of the home
- ◆ Journey with children and young people through their questions about life and faith
- ◆ Connecting with and protecting young people in a digital generation i.e. iParenting

Details:

Date: Thursday 27th November, 2014

Place: St Oswald's Trevallyn, 34 Bain Terrace

Time: 9:30am - 3pm

Cost: no cost, BYO lunch

For more info contact: James Veltmeyer, Director of Children's and Youth Ministry

0405 199 291 or james.veltmeier@anglicantas.org.au

Terry Williams Tassie Tour

HAEMORRHAGING FAITH - Why are we bleeding young people from our churches?

Current Australian research is shouting to us that our current TGIF Generation (Twitter, Google, iDevice, Facebook), which is more connected yet more isolated than generations before them, is walking away from the church and the faith in their adolescent years. The beginning of the solution to this critical issue is in our hands.

About Terry: Terry trained and worked as a teacher in primary and secondary schools before joining the staff team of Scripture Union Queensland, where he has worked for 30 years as a specialist in children's ministry. In 2008 Terry divided his time to join the SU International staff team in a part time capacity where part of his role is to serve on a small global training team helping to multiply trainers across the world. Terry is married to Margaret and they have three adult children and two grandchildren.

The session will be focused on envisioning and empowering local faith communities to develop their own long term discipling strategy.

Possible Topics are:

- ◆ Nurturing life long active faith in the context of the home
- ◆ Journey with children and young people through their questions about life and faith
- ◆ Connecting with and protecting young people in a digital generation i.e. iParenting

Details:

Date: Thursday 27th November, 2014

Place: St Oswald's Trevallyn, 34 Bain Terrace

Time: 7pm - 9pm

Cost: donation

For more info contact: James Veltmeyer, Director of Children's and Youth Ministry

0405 199 291 or james.veltmeier@anglicantas.org.au

Terry Williams Tassie Tour

HAEMORRHAGING FAITH - Why are we bleeding young people from our churches?

Current Australian research is shouting to us that our current TGIF Generation (Twitter, Google, iDevice, Facebook), which is more connected yet more isolated than generations before them, is walking away from the church and the faith in their adolescent years. The beginning of the solution to this critical issue is in our hands.

About Terry: Terry trained and worked as a teacher in primary and secondary schools before joining the staff team of Scripture Union Queensland, where he has worked for 30 years as a specialist in children's ministry. In 2008 Terry divided his time to join the SU International staff team in a part time capacity where part of his role is to serve on a small global training team helping to multiply trainers across the world. Terry is married to Margaret and they have three adult children and two grandchildren.

The session will be focused on envisioning and empowering local faith communities to develop their own long term discipling strategy.

Possible Topics are:

- ◆ Nurturing life long active faith in the context of the home
- ◆ Journey with children and young people through their questions about life and faith
- ◆ Connecting with and protecting young people in a digital generation i.e. iParenting

Details:

Date: Wednesday 26th November, 2014

Place: Holy Trinity Ulverstone, 6-10 Kings Parade

Time: 9:30am - 3pm

Cost: no cost, BYO lunch

For more info contact: James Veltmeyer, Director of Children's and Youth Ministry

0405 199 291 or james.veltmeier@anglicantas.org.au

Terry Williams Tassie Tour

HAEMORRHAGING FAITH - Why are we bleeding young people from our churches?

Current Australian research is shouting to us that our current TGIF Generation (Twitter, Google, iDevice, Facebook), which is more connected yet more isolated than generations before them, is walking away from the church and the faith in their adolescent years. The beginning of the solution to this critical issue is in our hands.

About Terry: Terry trained and worked as a teacher in primary and secondary schools before joining the staff team of Scripture Union Queensland, where he has worked for 30 years as a specialist in children's ministry. In 2008 Terry divided his time to join the SU International staff team in a part time capacity where part of his role is to serve on a small global training team helping to multiply trainers across the world. Terry is married to Margaret and they have three adult children and two grandchildren.

The session will be focused on envisioning and empowering local faith communities to develop their own long term discipling strategy.

Possible Topics are:

- ◆ Nurturing life long active faith in the context of the home
- ◆ Journey with children and young people through their questions about life and faith
- ◆ Connecting with and protecting young people in a digital generation i.e. iParenting

Details:

Date: Wednesday 26th November, 2014

Place: Holy Trinity Ulverstone, 6-10 Kings Parade

Time: 7pm - 9pm

Cost: donation

For more info contact: James Veltmeyer, Director of Children's and Youth Ministry

0405 199 291 or james.veltmeier@anglicantas.org.au